

Alternate Magic Square

by

Tyler Rodgers

Academic Magnet High School

This is a magic square that I made during my freshman history class. This magic square integrates the rows and columns of more traditional squares with an additional element of several diamonds and triangles. The color-coding on the diagram is meant to show the different numerical configurations on the square that will form equivalent sums with other color-coded configurations.